The renowned picture book scholar Lawrence R. Sipe (1949-2011) systematically collected American picture books and young adult literature. After his sudden death, his family donated Sipe’s collection to the International Youth Library in Munich.

Award-winning picture books from his impressive collection are now on display in our exhibition entitled Knuffle Bunny Meets Rosa Parks. The diverse selection includes stories of humor and fantasy, quiet yet evocative poetic books, artistic or whimsical retellings of fairy tales and fables, as well as realistic and hyperrealistic stories from children’s daily lives. Multicultural, political, and historical tales also feature prominently.

We cordially invite you and your friends to the opening of the exhibition Knuffle Bunny Meets Rosa Parks. Award-winning American Picture Books from the Lawrence R. Sipe Collection and to the illustrator discussion with Christopher Myers and David Wiesner.
